INTRODUCTION

The aim of this selected guide is to identify basic resources that will best serve the needs of students and faculty involved in area studies programs and international studies at Indiana University. The guide is not meant to be comprehensive; rather, it is representative of the most useful sources currently available in print and on the World Wide Web.

There are nine chapters, each following the same format, with print guides listed first, followed by sources on the Web. All lists are in alphabetical order by author or organization or Web site name. Within each section, the major sources are listed first and are annotated. These are followed by additional non-annotated sources. The World Wide Web sources are listed by site names and URLs. As with the print sources, major Web sites are annotated, followed by additional Web sites without annotation. We hope that by presenting the print guides and Web sources together in a single document that users of this guide will be able to see the larger picture of what is available and what is still lacking.

This Guide is not intended as a comprehensive, all inclusive listing of resources in the field of international and area studies. There may well be more important guides or Web sites that we have missed. We therefore welcome any comments or suggestions from our readers regarding the changes or additions which would make this guide more useful.

ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

Global Studies

ABI/Inform Global
ABI/Inform Global provides in-depth coverage of business and management issues and a wide variety of other topics. It includes indexing and abstracts to articles from more than 1,300 leading business and management publications including over 350 English titles from outside of the United States. Full text of articles is available for more than 600 of the most popular and important titles. Subjects covered include advertising, marketing, accounting, economics, human resources, finance, taxation, computers, and more. Information is also included on over 60,000 companies.

Academic Search Premier
Academic Search Premier is a multi-disciplinary, full text database. This resource contains full text for nearly 3,180 scholarly publications. Academic Search Premier includes full-page images as well as color embedded images. This database provides full text journal coverage for nearly all academic areas of study - including social sciences, humanities, education, computer sciences, engineering, language and linguistics, arts & literature, medical sciences, and ethnic studies.

Columbia Gazetteer of the World
There are three primary search options: Place-Name search duplicates how entries are found in the printed edition. You can look up an entry alphabetically by the name of the place. Word Search is an important tool for searching the text of all Gazetteer entries for any word, combination of words, or exact phrases. Once a search is completed, you can view or print a list of the entries where the search word/phrase is found, or view or print the entries themselves, as well as navigate through the list of matching articles, entry by entry. The Type of Place Search allows you to choose in one search between three different types of place (city, lake, mountain, river, etc.), four separate criteria (such as population, elevation, etc.) associated with those types of place, continent/sub-continent, and country. This search allows you to find and see a list of, for example, all the Gazetteer entries for rivers in Southeast Asia longer than 50 miles, or villages in Kenya with a population greater than 1,000 people, or railroad stations in Russia. The resulting list is printable, as is each entry.

Columbian International Affairs Online (CIAO)
CIAO provides the full texts of working papers from research organizations such as the Cato Institute, the Center for Studies of Social Change, the Brookings Institution, the University of California Center for German and European Studies, the Oxford University Centre for International Studies. An interactive feature allows colleagues to offer comments. CIAO also includes abstracts of articles from foreign policy journals; conference proceedings; some full-text online books from Columbia University Press; links to other related sites; and a weekly calendar of meetings, conferences, seminars and research projects.

Dow Jones Interactive
Dow Jones Interactive on the Web consists of the following: Business Newsstand for breaking news from Dow Jones and other newswires as well as major newspapers and magazines including the Wall Street Journal and its global editions, the New York Times, Washington Post, Financial Times and more. The Publications Library for in-depth research through an archive containing more than 6,000 publications with 1,300 global sources. Company and Industry Center for access to company/industry comparisons, financial snap-shots and full text of SEC documents within 60 minutes of filing. Web Center for links to web sites related to business and company information including links to specific company sites.

EconLit
EconLit covers journal articles, books, and dissertations, as well as articles in collective works, such as conference proceedings and collected essay volumes. It also includes Abstracts of

Ethnic NewsWatch
Ethnic NewsWatch is a collection of full-text articles from newspapers, magazines and journals of the ethnic, minority, and native press in America. Subjects covered include news, culture and history from over 200 publications dating back to 1990. Ethnic NewsWatch: A History contains the backfiles of Ethnic NewsWatch titles from 1960-1989. This part of the database is currently under development and is scheduled to be completed during Winter 2003. Some of the content is now available to be searched. The database is searchable in both English and Spanish and by using free text or field searching.

Historical Abstracts
Historical Abstracts covers modern world history (excluding the United States and Canada which are covered in America: History and Life) from 1450 to the present. It currently indexes about 2,000 journals, with indexing also for some books and dissertations. Most of the article citations include abstracts of 75-100 words.

International Political Science Abstracts
International Political Science Abstracts (IPSA), a bibliographic database from the International Political Science Association, indexes and abstracts articles from most of the major political science journals and yearbooks published throughout the world, as well as other journals in the social sciences. The database contains citations to articles in English and other languages. If the article is written in a language other than English, the title is translated into English and the abstract is written in French. Approximately 95% of the records include abstracts, with most written in English and the remainder in French (for articles in languages other than English).

Lexis Nexis
Lexis-Nexis Academic Universe provides full-text access and/or indexing and abstracting to information in a wide range of subject areas: general and political news from both US and non-US sources, corporate news and financial information, industry and market news, medicine and health, country profiles and federal and state law.

Newspaper Source

PAIS International
PAIS (Public Affairs Information Service) indexes materials related to public policy and social issues, including the fields of political science, government, international relations, economics, finance, law, environment, demography, sociology and business. It covers journal articles, books, government documents, pamphlets and the reports of public and private bodies. More than 1,100 journals and 8,000 monographs are indexed and abstracted each year. PAIS is international in scope and indexes publications in English, French, German, Italian, Portuguese and Spanish. Print source: PAIS bulletin (1915-1990), PAIS Foreign Language Index (1968-1990), PAIS International in Print (1991-)

PCI Web
PCI Web covers many scholarly journals in the humanities and social sciences, from their first issues (The earliest is 1780) through 1995. It includes an entry for each article or book review appearing on the table of contents page of each issue. The scope is international, with journals in English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and other Western languages. In early 1998 PCI included over eight million articles in 2,006 journals. Every year, it adds records for more than one million more articles. It will grow to encompass 3,500 journals and fifteen million individual articles.

Polling the Nations
Polling the Nations is a compilation of more than 14,000 surveys conducted by more than 700 polling organizations in the United States and more than 80 other countries from 1986 to the present. Each of the nearly 350,000 records reports a question asked and the responses given. Also included in each record is the polling organization responsible for the work, the date the information was released, the sample size, and universe, i.e., the groups or areas included in the interview, such as parents with children in public schools, Great Britain or California.

Social Sciences Citation Index
The Web of Science is the Web interface providing access to the Science Citation Index Expanded, Social Sciences Citation Index, and Arts & Humanities Citation Index. Customized search options allow researchers to search one or multiple citation databases, to select a specific time period for searching, and to limit retrieval by language and/or document type. Each record in the citation databases offers access to full-length author abstracts (when available) and the author's bibliography (cited references). The Web of Science offers enhanced cited reference searching. Researchers can search the citation data (the footnotes of each article), taking a known, relevant paper and finding other, more recent papers that cite it. In addition, the Keywords Plus feature provides additional search terms and phrases drawn from an article's bibliography (cited references).

Statistical Universe
Statistical Universe is an index/abstract database, providing bibliographic information to statistics produced by the U.S. federal government, state and local governments, international governmental organizations, and non-governmental organizations. SU provides electronic access to American Statistics Index, Statistical Reference Index and Index to International Statistics. Some links are provided to statistics directly. SU also provides web access to the Census Bureau's Statistical Abstract of the United States.

World News Connection (WNC)
WNC contains materials provided to the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) by the Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS). The reports are full text, English translations of foreign news sources and information. Particularly effective in its coverage of local media sources, WNC provides you with the power to identify what really is happening in a specific country or region. The database is compiled from thousands of non-U.S. media sources, the information in WNC covers significant socioeconomic, political, scientific, technical, and environmental issues and events.

Worldwide Political Science Abstracts
CSA Worldwide Political Science is building on the merged back-file of Political Science Abstracts (1975-2000) and ABC POL SCI (1984-2000). The database includes citations, abstracts and indexing of journals in political science, international relations and law, and public administration and policy.

Area Studies

ABSEES (Slavic & East European Studies) African Studies
ABSEES, or the American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies, is a bibliography which attempts to list books, journal articles, research reports, dissertations and book reviews. That is, for any publication published in the United States or Canada and which concerns the area of the Former Soviet Union, Albania, Bulgaria, The Czech Republic, Former East Germany, Greece, Poland, Romania, Slovakia and the Former Yugoslavia. The period of coverage is 1990 to the present; there is selective coverage of materials published before 1990. The update frequency is month. Between 5,000 and 7,000 new records are added each year.

African Studies
Combination of databases providing access to multi-disciplinary information on Africa.

Bibliography of Asian Studies
The record of research and scholarly literature on Asia written in Western languages; includes books, journal articles, conference presentations, chapters in edited volumes, etc. Full content of twenty years of the annual printed Bibliography of Asian Studies (from 1971-1991), plus citations from more recent years (including all articles in the 100 most-used journals in Asian studies).
Printed bibliography began in 1956 and ended with 1991; in the IUB Main

East View (Universal Database of Russian Newspapers)
Provides access to more than 450,000 articles from the Russian press. East View Publications provides electronic access to information on Russia and the former Soviet Union through the Universal Database of Russian Newspapers (UDB-COM) in both English and Russian. Includes: Moskovskaia pravda, Moscow News, New Times Novye Izvestiiia, Pravda Piat, Profil, Russkiii Telegraf, Segodnia, Trud, Vremia MN, Zavtra, among others.

EIU (Country & Business Intelligence)
The EIU produces objective and timely analysis and forecasts of the political, economic and business environment in more than 180 countries. They also produce reports on certain strategic industries and on the latest management thinking.

Handbook of Latin American Studies
The Hispanic Division of the Library of Congress indexes this database of scholarly evaluations of books, book chapters, articles, and conference papers in the field of Latin American Studies published worldwide since 1990.

HAPI (Hispanic American Periodicals Index)
Hispanic American Periodical Index indexes articles that appear in more than 400 scholarly journals published throughout the world which "regularly contain information on Latin America. Also indexed are leading journals treating the United States-Mexico border region and Hispanics in the United States". The coverage includes materials in written in English, French, German, Italian, Portuguese and Spanish.

HRAF - Human Relations Area Files
The Human Relations Area Files (HRAF) is a database of full text ethnographies on nearly 400 different ethnic, cultural, religious, and national groups worldwide. It is used to find information on a particular culture or cultural trait or for making cross-cultural comparisons. The Files include thousands of pages of text from books, articles, and unpublished manuscripts as well as English translations of foreign texts available exclusively in HRAF.

Informe! (Spanish Interface)
Informe! provides indexing, full-text and images of the most popular Spanish-language magazines and pamphlets - not just translations. Informe! Has a Spanish thesaurus and interface. Searching is available in both Spanish and English. Informe! features bilingual citations to help non-Spanish users navigate the database. Over 60 titles are indexed including 50 that are full text. These include popular titles such as Actual, Latina, Siempre! and El Nuevo Herald (Miami, FL). Topics covered include cultural and lifestyle issues, politics and current events, health, and entertainment.
INION Russian Academy of Sciences Bibliography

The Russian Academy of Sciences' Bibliographies cover Russian language monographs, journal articles, festschrifts, legislative acts, conferences, and dissertations. Each of the 2,000,000 records gives full bibliographic information, subject headings in English and Russian, and more than 50% contain an abstract. Subjects covered are economics, demography, philosophy, sociology, history, archeology, ethnography, law, political science, linguistics, literary criticism, religion, and international relations. Records are provided by INION: the Institute of Scientific Information on Social Sciences, Russian Academy of Sciences.

Biographical Information

Biography Resource Center

The Biography Resource Center is a database of biographical information on more than 185,000 people from throughout history, around the world, and across all disciplines and subject areas. It contains approximately 250,000 biographies from both print and electronic sources. Included are full-text articles from nearly 250 periodicals. Search for people based on one or more personal facts such as birth and death years and places, nationality, ethnicity, occupation or gender, or combine criteria to create a highly-targeted custom search path.

Chiefs of State and Cabinet Members of Foreign Governments

The Central Intelligence Agency publishes and updates the online directory of Chiefs of State and Cabinet Members of Foreign Governments weekly. The directory is intended to be used primarily as a reference aid and includes as many governments of the world as is considered practical, some of them not officially recognized by the United States. Regimes with which the United States has no diplomatic exchanges are indicated by the initials NDE.

Government

Access UN

The Readex United Nations Index provides fast access to current and retrospective United Nations documents and publications. Articles appearing in UN periodicals are individually indexed. Indexing of the bilateral and multilateral treaties in the UN Treaty Series is another unique feature of the Index. Documents from the six main bodies of the United Nations - General Assembly, Security Council, Economic and Social Council, Trusteeship Council, Secretariat and International Court of Justice - are indexed. Masthead documents (formerly referred to as mimeographed documents), Official Records, sales publications, limited and restricted documents, and documents emanating from sessional and standing committees, functional commissions, conferences and regional bodies are the basis of the Index.

Access UNDP

Access UNDP Index provides access to bibliographical information related to the United Nations Development Programme Project Reports held by the UNDP Library at UN Headquarters. The reports are available on microfiche in the Government Publications Department at IUB's Main Library, C264. The microfiche are arranged according to four geographic regions -- Africa, Asia and the Pacific, Latin America and the Caribbean, and Arab States/Europe and Commonwealth of Independent States/Interregional & Global. The UNDP Project Reports focus on various topics including Agriculture, Culture, Education, Employment, Energy, Environment, Health, Human Settlements, International Trade and Development, Natural Resources, Political Affairs, Population, Science and Technology, Social Conditions, and Transportation.
Congressional Universe
Formerly entitled Congressional Compass, Congressional Universe is the web version of the popular CD-ROM Congressional Masterfile, which is available on IO at all libraries at the IUB Campus; and various print indexes produced by Congressional Information Service including Index to the Publications of the U.S. Congress. It provides easy search access to congressional publications and includes some full-text of reports, bills and resolutions, and laws. Currently Universe includes information back to 1968, but earlier years will be added.

Declassified Documents Reference System, U.S.
Declassified Documents Reference System (DDRS) provides indexing, abstracting and microfiche of a large selection of U.S. government publications from presidential libraries. The libraries receive declassified documents from various government agencies: the White House, the CIA, the FBI, the State Department and others. As researchers have visited the presidential libraries and requested documents, the libraries have copied them and sent them to DDRS for filming. The result is a collection of more than 70,000 documents--400,000 pages--that has literally been built by researchers themselves for nearly two decades.

Digital National Security Archives
The Digital National Security Archives contains in several collections more than 35,000 declassified documents, an archival record of reports, memoranda, correspondence and papers concerning important public policy decisions in the area of foreign affairs and national security. The Digital National Security Archive consists of twelve collections, Afghanistan, Berlin Crisis 1958-1962, Cuban Missile Crisis, El Salvador, Iran-Contra Affair, Intelligence Community, Iran Revolution, Military Uses of Space, Nicaragua, Nuclear Non-Proliferation, Philippines, and South Africa. New collections will be added yearly.

Index to the House of Commons Parliamentary Papers on CD-Rom
Cumulative index to all House of Commons Parliamentary Papers from 1801 to 1990. For 1990 and later see the Index to British Parliamentary Papers. The IUB Government Publications holds most of the parliamentary papers either in print or on microfiche. Guide to Using British Parliamentary Papers in the IUB Government Publications Department.

SourceOECD
SourceOECD is the online publications portal of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, an international governmental organization. SourceOECD, when complete, will comprise 19 Studies by Themes, containing all our monographs and reports; 19 periodicals online; some reference titles online; and the OECD statistical databases online. Themes include Agriculture & Food; Education & Skills; Emerging Economies; Employment; Energy; Enterprise, Industry and Trade; Environment * Sustainable Development; Finance & Investment; Governance; International Development; Nuclear Energy; Science & Information Technology; Social Issues and Migration; Statistics Sources & Methods; Taxation; Transportation.

UN Treaty Collection
The United Nations Treaty Collection provides access to three databases available from the United Nations concerning international agreements: Status of Multilateral Treaties deposited with the Secretary-General including photographs of treaty actions, and titles in the UN Official Languages. United Nations Treaty Series: contains texts of over 34,000 bilateral and multilateral treaties in their authentic languages along with a translation into English and French. Alterna TIFF plug-in is recommended and available for installation. Texts of Recently Deposited Multilateral Treaties include texts of treaties deposited but not yet published in the Treaty Series.
GUIDES TO INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

In this chapter are listed guides and Web sites that are related to the study and teaching of global studies in a general sense. The guides are a good place to start with for finding information about international organizations, regional organizations such as the European Union, World Bank and Organization of African Unity, global development and trade, and education. Also included are guides that identify international documents, sources of global data, and international legal materials.

The Web sites provide information about general sites that are related to the study of international affairs. Some of the sites are useful for finding information about specific world areas or countries. Some sites for global studies programs are also included. We have included the Web site for the Center for the Study of Global Change: http://www.indiana.edu/~world

Guides

This single volume reference book attempts to assemble the key facts and figures on the major political developments since World War II. It includes information on international political organizations, heads of state and governments, constitutions and legislatures, treaties and agreements, political parties, elections, and population. The volume includes a biographical dictionary and dictionary of political terms, events, and actions.

This volume identifies the most important general global statistical sourcebooks available in print. It also identifies statistical sourcebooks by subject that are available in print, as well as electronic databases, including CD-ROMs, online, and on tape. There are a list of publications by publishers and an index of publications by title.

This volume is a good starting place to find information about concepts and terms related to global studies. The volume includes over four hundred entries that describe over one thousand terms. In addition to individual definitions the entries give historical and global significance of concepts. The work includes a detailed subject index, maps, and upper appendixes of countries, major international documents, and a chronology.

Z7514.D2 B6 1994 RESEARCH COLLECTIONS, HPER LIBRARY
A comprehensive reference guide to dance information in both electronic and print form. Covering all forms of dance as well as the other work of the dancer/choreographer-activities that include teaching classes in dance history, anthropology, or philosophy, writing reviews and essays, or conducting studies in dance kinesiology. All types of sources are cited: publications, and sources for book and performance reviews. The focus is on English-language sources.

ML120.A35 G7 1991 RESEARCH COLLECTIONS, AAC LIBRARY
A reference tool that provides information on a large body of both major and obscure sources of various genres of African music. This guide is devoted to ethnographic, anthropological, musicological, and popular studies of Sub-Saharan African music from the 1890s to the present. The bibliography is organized into six basic sections. The items cited range from books, dissertations, unpublished papers, and periodical and newspaper articles, to films, videotapes, and audiotapes in all of the major Western languages as well as several African ones. The three appendixes deal, respectively, with reference works on African music and culture; archives and research centers; and a selected discography listing both traditional and popular music recordings.

and outlets where they may be found. Four indexes, ethnic group, subject, artist and author, complete the work and provide a key to its five thousand eight hundred entries.

Z6514.P76 M535 1996 RESEARCH COLLECTIONS
This bibliography contains two thousand six hundred fifty four entries. The first two hundred eighty four entries are related to general studies. Proverb dictionaries based on texts collected from literary works, books and articles about numerous authors, studies of the interrelationship of proverbs and folk, and theoretical writings on the integration and function of proverbs in literature in general are listed here. The second part of the bibliography is arranged alphabetically according to the last name of the literary author whose proverbial usage has been investigated. Anonymous works are also listed alphabetically. A name index of the scholars cited appears at the end. Extensive materials from many languages and cultures are collected and organized. The bibliography includes not only proverb studies regarding the major authors of world literature, but also those investigations that deal with regional writers.

GLOBAL RESOURCES AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Guides

GE1.K38 1993 BUSINESS/SPEA
This book describes how, why and where environmental efforts have been conducted, and who was responsible for making them work. The information here came mostly from two sets of surveys sent to the over five thousand individuals and organizations that are documented in an alphabetical list of one hundred and fifteen countries. The sections are further subdivided by type of organization i.e. Government, NGO, Private, University. An index, appendix, and list of abbreviations and acronyms provide ease of navigation for this source.

HD69.P6 P46 1992 BUSINESS/SPEA
This book is divided according to its two purposes; the first section provides information on accessing key publications on business and the environment, and the second section lists the major educators in the field, including a biographical sketch and a list of publications. Indexed by countries, key word, subject headings, author, educator and university. Good source to refer to when looking for graduate programs; the list of active researchers and contact information can be a valuable lead.

GE140.E59 1993 GOVPUBS RESERVE
This volume provides measures of environmental, economic, and social conditions in developing countries. Divided into four sections, water, land, air, atmosphere. It presents statistics on countries with populations of more than one million. Statistics are given in tabular and graphical formats, including by maps of the world. Includes glossary.

INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY

Guides

Three hundred entries describe the major multilateral treaties open to all states that regulate trade, finance and environmental protection. Each entry provides a summary of the agreement, an overview of the main points, technical data, references and bibliographies. Seventy major international organizations are also described with contact information.

This guide dedicates itself to beginner and explains various, and common global economic concepts. Virtual banks, money supply, central bank, inflation and full trade are a few examples of concepts described. The end of the book is equipped with a glossary of business/economic terms.

Good for brief one-page information on two hundred countries. Each entry gives the forms of business address, business holidays, language of commerce, business idiosyncrasies, economic relationships as well as other key information. Also has maps, a glossary, a list of additional resources and appendixes.

Describes the key international business publications and databases and the subject background information needed to understand them. Focuses on sources on companies, industries, markets and finance. The goal of the book is to help the reader evaluate business sources; uses tables and illustrations as examples from both the print and the electronic sources. Each chapter starts with a bulleted list of the topics and main sources discussed, allowing for quick scanning.

GUIDE TO OVERSEAS OPPORTUNITIES

This guide includes printed sources for finding information about international careers, study abroad and internship opportunities. In each category there are two alphabetized listings of directories, guides and sourcebooks. The first listing provides the best sources, which have been annotated. Following the annotated works is the second listing of additional sources. Each entry includes the author, title, place, publisher, date, pages, call number and location. Most of the items were published in the 1990’s, but there are some from the 1980’s. While those items may be somewhat out of date, they still contain valuable information. If you know of any new books please notify Bob Goehlert, Library E-860 (812-855-1609 / goehlert@indiana.edu) and he will have the library order them. The locations include various Libraries on the Indiana University campus as well as the Career Development Center at 625 North Jordan Avenue and the Overseas Study Information Center located in 303 Franklin Hall.

There are several offices on campus that also provide information and services about international careers, study abroad and internship opportunities. The Career Development Center, located at 625 North Jordan Avenue (812-855-5234 / http://www.indiana.edu/~career/) houses a Career Resource Library (http://www.indiana.edu/~career/crl/crl.html) which provides resources for career planning and college major exploration. In addition, the Career Development Center contains the Career Counseling Services, the Student Employment Office, Arts & Sciences Placement Office, and the Internship Opportunities Program. There are also six other placement offices on campus including Business, Education, HPER, Journalism, Music and Public & Environmental Affairs.

The Undergraduate Library in the Main Library, located at 10th Street and Jordan Avenue has an excellent Career Reference Collection (812-855-9857 / http://www.indiana.edu/~libugls/career-home.html). Many of the items listed in this guide can be found in the Career Reference Collection in the Undergraduate Library. The Office of Overseas Study, located in 303 Franklin Hall (812-855-9304 / http://www.indiana.edu/~overseas) is the best place on campus for information about study overseas. The Information Center within the Office provides information about all the IU administered overseas study programs, co-sponsored programs, as well as non-IU study abroad programs. The Office also has information about work and volunteer programs abroad in their Resource Room as well as on their web site. As a unit of the Career Development Center, the Internship Opportunities Program is located at 625 North Jordan Avenue (812-855-8208 / http://www.indiana.edu/~career/iop/iop.html). The Program offers workshops, interviewing opportunities, resume referrals and internships listings. The Center for the Study of Global Change has information on its website about international opportunities, including websites on campus and around the world that have information about international careers, study abroad, and internships overseas (http://www.indiana.edu/~world/gl_interopps.html).
