BIO SKETCH – Ken Menkhaus

Ken Menkhaus is Chair and C. Louise Nelson Professor of the Political Science department at Davidson College where his courses focus on international and comparative politics, as well as the non-profit sector. His regional specialization is the Horn of Africa. Before arriving at Davidson, Ken taught for two years at the American University in Cairo, Egypt from 1989 to 1991. In 1993-1994, he served as special political advisor in the U.N. Operation in Somalia, was a visiting civilian professor at the U.S. Army Peacekeeping Institute in 1994-1995, and was awarded a visiting scholar position at the U.S. Army Strategic Studies Institute in 2011-2012. In 2004, Ken received a U.S. Institute of Peace grant for his research on armed conflict in the Horn of Africa. He has published in the fields of development, conflict analysis, humanitarian response, peace operations, peacebuilding, state-building, and violent extremism. Ken’s work involves both academic research and policy work with the U.S. government, the United Nations, the World Bank, and non-government organizations.

The Hamilton Lugar School wishes to acknowledge and honor the Miami, Delaware, Potawatomi, and Shawnee people, on whose ancestral homelands and resources Indiana University was built.
